

Improvising Composers Collective and Creative Nation Music present: Jazz and Improvisation Master Classes and Concert

Thursday November 6th, Cambridge YMCA, 820 Massachusetts Ave,
Central Sq. Cambridge, MA

Schedule:

1:00-2:30 pm - Guitar Master Class with Garrison Fewell and Eric Hofbauer

3:30-5:00 pm - Improv. Master Class with John Tchicai (all instruments welcome)

7:00 pm - Concert: double feature with the Fewell/Hofbauer Duo & John Tchicai Trio with Charlie Kohlhase and Garrison Fewell

1 master class + concert - $20

both master classes + concert - $30 concert - $15 / $10 student ID.

The Master Classes and Jazz Concert at the Cambridge YMCA are being held in a beautiful Victorian Theatre dating from 1897.

The Guitar Master Class, directed by Garrison Fewell (Professor Berklee College of Music) and Eric Hofbauer (Professor URI and Emerson College), will feature creative playing, collective improvisation, exotic jazz influences, techniques for microtonal and prepared guitar performance. Students will perform and record a collective improvisation with the Professors at the end of the Master Class.

The Improvisation Master Class, directed by Afro-Danish saxophonist John Tchicai is open for all instruments, percussion and vocalists. John will work on etudes and techniques to develop deep listening skills and creative improvisation featuring ensemble performance of original compositions with all students.

The evening jazz concert is a double feature: Guitar duo by Eric Hofbauer and Garrison Fewell playing improvisations from their recording, "The Lady of Khartoum" followed by the John Tchicai Trio featuring Charlie Kohlhase and Garrison Fewell performing new compositions and some tunes from their recording "Good Night Songs". The concert will conclude with a group performance of the Improvising Composers Collective featuring all of the above!

To reserve a place in any of the Master Classes or the concert, call Garrison at 617 504 7622. Email: gfewell@berklee.edu
Or contact Eric at www.cnmpro.com

Photos available upon request

CREATIVE NATION MUSIC

